

ARREST ALLEGED SLAYERS OF MADERO AND SUAREZ

Negotiations With Revolutionary Bands Continue, With Success; Must
Lay Down Arms, Officials

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 27.—That the investigation now being conducted to determine the responsibility for the death of Madero and Pino Suarez is tending to support the official statements relative to an attacking party, is indicated by the arrest today of Jose Zamarcena and five others alleged to have been members of the party which attempted to rescue the former president and vice president.

These men are of no public prominence. Zamarcena is classed as their leader. As yet no statement has been given out as to the result of the investigations.

Negotiations with the representatives of rebels, especially the Zapata faction, continue with varying success. The latest commission to confer with the government regarding cooperation represents General de la O, General Salazar and Felipe Neri, all of whom have signed unenviable reputations for the thoroughness of their vicious warfare.

Zapatista Demands.
Among the conditions set forth is one which has been insisted from time to time by all Zapatistas, including Emiliano Zapata himself, that all the federal troops be retired from the state of Morelos and that the garrisons be composed of an army made up of ex-rebels.

President Huerta has declined to grant this demand, but this has not resulted in breaking off negotiations. Meanwhile, men under these leaders have occupied Ayotlingo and Chalco, near the edge of the federal district, and Juchitpec, a short distance to the south.

Fearing that they will be forced to leave and restore their commissary department from the various towns, the government has sent them money sufficient to maintain them during the period of the negotiations. If the negotiations do not result in their surrender, the government must begin a campaign with conditions reversed—the rebels in possession of a majority of the towns.

Take Towns Easily.
Taking advantage of the withdrawal of the troops which were brought to the capital to assist in the battle here, the Zapatistas found no difficulty in occupying towns at will.

In all the exchanges between the government and Zapatistas, representatives of the minor chiefs have acted as the rebels. Zapata himself has not indicated his intentions, but the government is hopeful that he will send representatives to the capital at an early date.

Discussing the hopes and aims of the government, the minister of the interior, Garcia Granados, said today: "The government desires all reasonable elements of the rebels to cooperate with it, and to this end will respect the state rights, taking no part in internal affairs and imposing no governors. By this means the government believes that the tension will be speedily reduced. But if, unfortunately, there should arise in some states elements of discord, the government will use all its energies for the reestablishment of peace."

Rebels Defy Huerta.
Gen. Truce Aubert, at Torreon, has been instructed to take command of the column acting in cooperation with General Trevino at Monterrey, in the campaign against the rebels in the state of Coahuila. The situation in that state, according to information received at the national palace, has not improved. Ex-Governor Carranza still is defying the Huerta government.

Two notable figures are prisoners in the south—Antonio Hidalgo, former governor of Tlaxcala, and Ambrosio Figueroa, commander of the rurales, who just prior to the fall of Madero, went into the state of Guerrero to endeavor to reconcile the rebels. It is officially said that Hidalgo will arrive here tomorrow in answer to a summons issued by President Huerta, but another story is that he will be tried without being brought to the capital, under a suspension of the year of activity and prosperous future shown at annual meeting boys club assn.

With a cash balance of $108,112 in its treasury, the Colorado Springs Boys Club association, following its annual meeting yesterday, stood in a flourishing condition and ready for another year of activity.

NOT WILLING TO TAKE SEAT
Legislators Leave Under Impression No Other Ballot to Be Taken

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 27.—Only developments of the future can determine definitely the actual result of the efforts of Speaker McKinley and other Democrats to elect Colonel James Hamilton Lewis to the long term senatorship after many members of the Illinois legislature had left the joint session under the impression that another ballot on the senators would not be taken today.

After the seventh joint ballot had been taken with no choice, Speaker McKinley ordered another roll call. Many of the Republicans and Progressives who remained refused to vote and Colonel Lewis received 46 out of the 77 votes cast on the eighth joint ballot.

One hundred and three votes is the constitutional majority of the Illinois legislature, which always has been deemed essential to the election of a senator, but there is a disputed technicality regarding the wording of the law as to whether a majority of those present and voting would be a constitutional majority of the legislature. It is on this interpretation of the law that the Lewis Democrats claimed an election in the confusion following the vote.

Colonel Lewis tonight indicated he had no desire to attempt to obtain a seat in the United States senate on the strength of today's proceedings unless inquiry discloses that he is entitled to it under the statutes.

BURLINGTON WILL AID IN BOOSTING COLORADO
DENVER, Feb. 27.—A telegram was received here today by Louis Epplie, president of the real estate exchange, from A. J. Halter, at Chicago, stating that President Miller of the Chicago Burlington & Quincy railroad, authorized the announcement that the railroad company will contribute $50,000 a year for three years for the advertising of Denver and Colorado.

GUNNISON, Feb. 27.—Ira Brown, aged 72, a pioneer, is dead here of pneumonia. Brown was inspector of the general land office here under President Harrison. He is survived by a widow, a daughter and two sons.

DYNAMITE PLOTTERS INNOCENT—GOMPERTS
Ryan Candidate for Re-election at Iron Workers Convention

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 27.—Samuel M. Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, held a conference today with Frank M. Ryan and eight other officials of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers who were convicted at the recent "dynamite conspiracy" trials here.

Precautions were taken to make the conference secret. Guards were placed at the doors and only those who could show creditable as delegates to the iron workers convention were permitted to attend.

Mr. Gompers declined later to make known what took place except to say he had expressed a belief that all of the 33 men sentenced to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., as conspirators toward McNamara dynamite plots were innocent.

Predicts New Trial.
He said, in addressing the iron workers delegates, he told them he was confident the United States circuit court of appeals would grant new trials.

SUFFRAGETTES THREATEN REVOLT

National Officials Would Deprive Marchers of Final Honors

MEN FIGHT FOR "HIKERS"
Now on Home Stretch; Will Be Almost in Sight of Capitol Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—General Leslie Jones and his army of "hikers" from New York are expected to be within striking distance of the capital at noon tomorrow. They will be met by a large detachment from the suffrage headquarters here, headed by Miss Alice King, who will lead the "hikers" movement, and other women who will take them toward Washington.

A group composed of 25 equally women, who are to take part in the parade March 3 will form the official escort. There also will be a battalion of young women marchers who are members of a local training club.

Arriving in Washington, the hikers will march to the suffrage headquarters. A short time after reaching the headquarters, a large open-air meeting will be held at which "General" Leslie Jones will make the chief address.

Invite Solons to "Hike."
A final effort will be made tomorrow to obtain the consent of senators and representatives from suffrage states to take part in the parade Monday. An appeal has been addressed to all such members of congress, and several replies have been received.

A reply from Senator Robert M. La Follette stated that, while he was not able to be in the parade personally, he had delegated two of his sons to take part. Senator Reed Smoot of Utah wrote that he was unable to take a place in the procession, but would send a substitute. Similar letters were received today from other members of congress.

Male Protection Required.
BLADENBURG, Md., Feb. 27.—Newspaper correspondents, walking with "General" Leslie Jones and his "army" of hikers defended the suffragettes with their fists today in a fight with students at a college near here.

When the hikers marched through College Park, the students greeted them with jeers. Finally their march became so unruly that the newspaper men intervened. A fight (Continued on Page Three.)

BEGIN FRIEDMANN TREATMENTS SOON
For Public Only After U. S. Government Has Made Tests

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Surgeon General Blue of the public health service has been so deluged with requests from sufferers from pulmonary tuberculosis, for permission to offer themselves as subjects for tests of Dr. Friedmann's tuberculosis vaccine, that he made an official announcement today that under no circumstances would the public health service give the vaccine to anyone until it had been tested in the government's hygienic laboratory here.

Dr. Anderson of the laboratory went to New York to get the culture Dr. Friedmann has turned over to the public health service for laboratory tests.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Friedmann's tuberculosis vaccine, conferred today with Dr. Frederick E. Friedmann, the Berlin specialist who arrived here Tuesday bringing his much-discussed treatment for tuberculosis. Dr. Friedmann has given the government samples of his culture for testing.

Dr. Milton Foster of the public health and marine hospital service and Dr. John E. Anderson, director of the hygienic laboratory at Washington, were those who called on the German physician.

Dr. Foster said, after the conference, that no public statement would be made until after Dr. Anderson had made his report to Surgeon General Blue at Washington. He would not say whether Dr. Friedmann had applied for the privilege of treating patients in the marine hospital, and whether such application had been refused.

APPROPRIATION BILLS ARE RUSHED

Legislative Dockets Present "Cleaned Up" Appearance at Close of Day

SESSION CLOSES TUESDAY
General Deficiency Bill Meets With Very Little Opposition

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—House and senate gave the annual appropriations bills a vigorous push today, toward completion and made marked inroads upon a mass of legislative matter that has crowded the calendars of congress. The last appropriation measure, the general deficiency bill, passed the house early in the day, and that body has only conference reports to act upon from now until adjournment.

After a session, lasting until 4 a. m. today, the senate completed at 10 o'clock and moved rapidly through the agricultural and the sundry civil appropriation measures. The legislative dockets presented more of a "cleaned-up" appearance tonight than congressional leaders had dared to hope for.

Only two of the appropriation bills finally were prepared for the president up to an early hour this evening, as the majority of the measures rest in conference committees, which are rapidly adjusting the differences between the two houses.

Expect Final Crush.
Fights over the public buildings, sundry civil and naval bills may force a crash of work at the end of the session this week, a condition that will be aggravated if President Taft carries out his original purpose of vetoing the public buildings bill.

The senate had not acted on the naval or general deficiency bills today, and a lively fight was expected over the battleship question when the naval bill comes up. It was expected tonight, however, that it would be possible to complete all of the bills carrying the one billion dollars or more of federal appropriations before adjournment next Tuesday unless the two houses become deadlocked in the conference committees over some of the matters in controversy.

Deficiency Bill Passes.
The general deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $24,688,245, passed the house with practically no opposition. The measure supplies deficiencies in all of the various appropriations for previous years, including $15,100,000 for pensions.

An item of $19,375 is carried to provide for the commerce court for the remainder of the present fiscal year.

The house agreed to the senate amendments to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, carrying approximately $4,000,000. Conference was asked on the railroads and harbors, Indian and public buildings appropriation bills. The senate adopted an amendment to the sundry civil bill, proposed by Senator Lee of Tennessee, providing for a government exhibit at the National Conservation exposition to be held at Knoxville, Tenn., in the fall of this year.

The amendment carries an appropriation of $250,000 and provides for the exhibition of articles and materials as will illustrate the administrative functions of government and the educational value in connection with the development of natural resources.

STRIKE 9,000 SHIRT WAIST WORKERS BEGINS TODAY
BOSTON, Feb. 27.—A strike of 9,000 workers in the shirt waist and dress-making trades will begin tomorrow morning, according to an announcement issued tonight.

United States, and some foreign countries. It was a great pleasure to find Prof. George Herbert Palmer here as exchange instructor from Harvard university, lecturing in the department of philosophy and giving a course of public lectures upon "English Poetry." The service rendered by Professor Palmer is highly appreciated, and he is attracting large audiences of students and people from the city. The college church was crowded on Sunday to hear President Fitch of Andover Theological seminary, who as "college preacher" is evidently rendering most valuable service. It is a great surprise to find here an institution of the higher learning which holds such a commanding position and which ranks among the best in the country. Harvard never did a wiser thing than to establish relations with such a college as this, both for the unification of higher education throughout the country and also to attract the choicest students to its graduate courses.

More Praise for College.
It is a matter of great interest to see how many eastern men are coming here for their undergraduate courses, partly because they think of throwing their lives later into the west, and partly because they are here after taking their professional work in large numbers from all over the (Continued on Page Three.)

ENGLISH REPLY TO CANAL DISPUTE TO BE SUBMITTED SOON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The aim of the British government in presenting a rejoinder to Secretary Knox's last note asserting the right of the United States to exempt its coastwise shipping from payment of tolls in the Panama canal, before the retirement of the present administration, is understood to be influenced by the desire to escape the intimation that it wishes to deal with the incoming Democratic administration. Therefore the next note, now in preparation and likely to be delivered by Ambassador Bryce to Secretary Knox in the course of a day or two, will be in the line of development, in a logical way of the initial British contentions regarding the accessibility of the canal to all nations, including the United States on even terms and of the arbitral nature of the issue between the two governments. It is understood in regard to the latter point, however, that Ambassador Bryce, who is now taking an active part in the preparation of the British case, has not indicated a purpose to accept the proposal of Secretary Knox in his last note, to exchange ratifications on the pending general arbitration treaty between America and Great Britain in order to permit of the appointment of a special commission therein provided for, to ascertain and report upon the facts in the dispute.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY FOR THE BLOOD, LIVER, LUNGS.

MILITANTS FACE LIFE SENTENCE IF CONVICTED OF CHARGES IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Militant suffragettes connected with the burning of buildings in public parks are liable to "penal servitude for life." This was the announcement today by Travers Humphreys, public prosecutor in asking the magistrate at the Kew police court to commit for trial Miss Lillian Lenton and Miss Joyce Locke. The two were arrested on February 20 for setting fire to a pavilion in the Kew Botanical gardens. "I make my charge," said Mr. Humphreys, "under the malicious damage act, which makes it a felony punishable by penal servitude for life for any person to fire a building belonging to the king and devoted to public use." At the hearing today only Miss Locke appeared, Miss Lenton having been released owing to ill health after carrying out a hunger strike. Mr. Humphreys said the magistrate authorities had reported that she was an extraordinary one. Prisoners he continued, some times are released from prison but not from custody. He immediately issued a warrant for her arrest. Miss Locke, who also started a hunger strike while detained, was forcibly fed. She pleaded today that she was too ill to conduct her defense but the cases proceeded and she was committed for trial at the assizes. Bail was fixed at $5,000 on the promise of the accused that she would refrain from any agitation pending her appearance before the jury. A young woman, who was arrested on the all-England tennis grounds at Wimbledon last night with bags containing inflammable materials in her possession, refused to give any information about herself today. She was remanded for further investigation. The police testified that they found five cans of paraffin and other combustibles near the grandstand. There are 180,000 dry goods stores in the United States, and of these 27,000 are department stores.

"Economies" we can't afford

In one sense, we could make money by using a cheaper soap than Ivory, by using cheaper starch and lower priced employees, etc.

But the saving at most would be only a fraction of the resulting loss in reputation. You can count on the fact that you practice no "economies" that takes it out of your clothes.

We aim to do the finest laundering possible, second to none. Our patrons tell us we are succeeding. You will like our work. Try it.

HEAD OF MEXICAN NATION FOR 26 MINUTES

PEDRO LASCURAIN
Pedro Lascurain, former minister of Mexico, who was made head of the Mexican republic during the recent election and gave way to General Huerta after he had held the honor for 26 minutes.

boys clubs of the country, we have for the last two years given some of our attention to athletics for school girls. While our work along this line has been confined solely to games of various kinds for the girls, it has shown the need of a work of this kind in this city, and it is to be hoped that the people of our city who have for years caused the work of our association to be carried on will make it possible for us to set aside some time each week for girls' gymnasium classes as well as to conduct educational classes and lectures for the parents of the members of the club, as is done in other cities.

Another new feature of our work during the year which has been the occasion for considerable favorable comment has been the "Sunday hike" to the mountains for the boys, where talks were given by some of the prominent men of the city along lines suitable for a Sunday gathering of this nature. Quite a number of these hikes were conducted during the summer, large crowds attending. While this was first attempted as an experiment, the experience gained has proven that the boys very willingly leave their Sunday baseball fields to participate in a hike of this kind to the mountains.

It might be well to state that our facilities for entertaining the crowds of older boys who attend the club have not been sufficient for our needs during the year, and we would be deeply grateful for the donation from someone interested in the boys of the city of one or two full-sized game tables for our use. In this connection, we also wish to say that our present lighting plant is not large enough for the requirements, and help along this line is very much needed.

During the temporary absence of Miss Jennie Pinckney, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Rutz has very ably taken up her charge, while Mr. Fred Green still has charge of the housekeeping department, with Mr. Harry Springer as director of the physical department. To them a large share of the credit for the successful work of the association is due on account of their zealous work in the discharge of their various duties.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIAM A. HELLER,
Superintendent.

the east. When one finds a college of such standing as this possesses, and its president and practically all its faculty graduates of eastern institutions, it seems a very wise thing to do, especially when one can come to such a climate as this and with such delightful surroundings.

"One wonders why it is that so many eastern people pass by Colorado on their way to California, when the climate here is so much more invigorating and life-giving. There is a vast more vigor in this mountain air, with its warm sunshine, than in anything else in the country, and there are few places like it in the world for those desiring health and rest."

Then it is a thoroughly good thing for those of us who were born and bred in New England to discover the west, and its institutions, and to get away from such shallow judgments as that "all western colleges are no better than eastern high schools." In some respects they have distanced us, and they have certainly taken from our eastern institutions many of their choicest scholars and most effective administrators. It is well that it is so, for the west, in its constructive periods, needs just the leadership that such leadership as this one is producing. This situation, but the condescension of some of the "soldiers" were silenced by the pacific attitude of "General" Jones.

resulted, in which the students got into the worst of the argument.

The hikers arrived here late this afternoon, after a wet tramp from Laurel, from which place they started this morning.

"Deprived of Hoovers?"

At Laurel a message was received by "General" Jones that the national suffrage officers themselves desired to deliver to President Wilson the message the hikers are bearing to Washington. This situation caused consternation in the "army," but the protests of some of the "soldiers" were silenced by the pacific attitude of "General" Jones.

and "General" Jones to submit the entire subject to a further conference tomorrow. Insurgents developed late tonight, and Miss Pinckney, one of the hikers, decided that if the members of the army were not permitted to deliver the message as originally intended, she would desert and return to New York.

FAY KING IS AFTER DIVORCE

DENVER, Feb. 27.—Fay King Nelson, bride of "Battling" Nelson, announced tonight that she will institute divorce proceedings against her husband at once. They were married last January in the former lightweight champion's home, Hegewisch, Ill., where the ceremony was accompanied by the blare of a brass band and much gaiety.

Mrs. Nelson declared tonight that she was "kidnaped" by Nelson and taken forcibly from the hotel in Denver where she had been living.

It is stated that Nelson will be in Denver next week, and that the suit will be filed at that time.

Mrs. Nelson is a cartoonist on the staff of a local newspaper, and has been at her work since shortly after her marriage.

In a statement made public tonight concerning her marriage to Battling Nelson, the young bride said:

"I literally was kidnaped by Battling Nelson. I went with him absolutely against my will. He is a man who will not take 'no' when he wants 'yes.' It may seem to have been weakness on my part to go with him.

"For an example of his persistence, I give his fight with Britt, when he had whipped before the battle began, because he insisted on having Britt's bandaged arm wrapped and unwrapped until Britt was in no fit condition to go into the ring.

"I did not want the same here in the hotel, which I knew would take place. I hardly can express just what influence Mr. Nelson had over me—no one not acquainted with him could understand.

"But I did not love him. I never loved him, and I never could love him. All of that brass band affair at the wedding more than sickened me, and as the ceremony was performed my heart was breaking.

"Since getting from under his influence I have decided that the only thing for me to do is to secure a divorce, and that I will as soon as possible."

DENVER POLICE HOLD LOCAL WOMAN CHARGED THEFT OF COSTLY RING

Charged with the theft of a ruby ring, said to be 1 1/2 years old and valued highly as an heirloom, from Mrs. F. H. Duke of 2027 North Tejon street, Mrs. R. McIntyre was arrested in Denver last night at the request of the local police. Advice from Denver said that the woman, known there as Mrs. M. Bowman, was taken into custody while attending a reception, and that she denied the affair, threatening to sue those who accuse her of the theft.

Mrs. Bowman, or Mrs. McIntyre, says she rented rooms to Mrs. Duke, and that the children of the latter lost the ring. The woman will be brought to Colorado Springs today, where the police say, she will also be charged with securing goods under false pretenses from local merchants.

Mrs. Duke is spending the winter in Colorado Springs. She is from Mississippi.

Overall Retires From Game; Doesn't Want to Be 'Farmed'

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—Orval Overall, who recently was reinstated by the national baseball commission, announced definitely tonight his retirement from professional baseball.

In a statement he issued the former Chicago National League pitcher announced that President Murphy of the Chicago club was right in refusing to trade him to another club unless he reported first to the Chicago team. He had been ignorant of that rule, he said.

Overall expressed a disinclination to reenter the game in Chicago, fearing that if he did not pitch in the form he was showing before he quit the game, two years ago, he would be dubbed a "has been" by the Chicago fans.

It is no secret that the big pitcher wanted to be traded to Cincinnati, but was apprehensive that Murphy would send him to Louisville, the "Cub farm."

DEAF AND BLIND TEAM WINS JANE BURNS CUP IN INDOOR BASEBALL

The Jane Burns silver cup for the championship of the Boy Scout Indoor Baseball league was won last night by the Deaf and Blind school trophy team, defeating the North End scouts by the score of 26 to 20. The season of the league has been an extremely interesting one, and the games have been hard fought.

Tonight, in the Eureka Peak Secondary School Basketball league, the Deaf and Blind school quintet will do battle with the five from the St. Mary's school. In the girls league the Deaf and Blind team will play the Cheyenne school girls.

DE ORO RETAINS TITLE

NEW-YORK, Feb. 27.—Alfred De Oro retained his title of pocket billiard champion of the world tonight at the end of a three nights' match with Thomas Hueston, by defeating the challenger 600 to 388. Tonight's score was: De Oro, 200; Hueston, 157.

Hueston was staid and played better than in either of the two previous blocks of 200 points. De Oro needed one point to win in the twenty-fourth frame, but he did not succeed in scoring the necessary twelve until the twenty-seventh frame.

De Oro's high run tonight was 38; Hueston's, 31. Each made four scratches.

Governor Changes Attitude.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 27.—While under arrest, Governor Abraham Gonzalez of Chihuahua has issued a proclamation calling on the people of the state to accept the Huerta government. He is held by the military authorities at Chihuahua City on charges of sedition against the party in power at the national capital. Friends of the government assert that the proclamation was forced.

This was reported by passengers arriving here tonight from the state capital, where all was reported quiet. It also was said that Alberto Madroñero, uncle of the former president, had escaped from the city. He first had taken refuge in the American consulate. The trial of Governor Gonzalez is said to be delayed. Assurances are given that he will not be killed if convicted by the military court-martial sitting on the case.

"Constitutionalists" Latest.
EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 27.—"Constitutionalists" is the name adopted by the latest revolutionary party in Mexico.
Reports reached here today of operations by the Constitutionalists at various points in the state of Chihuahua.
Rancher and mining camps were raided
in the district along the Mexico Northwestern railway east of Chihuahua City.

Most of the new rebels are former federal volunteers who served as insurrectors in Madero's revolution. They are ranchmen and mountaineers from the districts of Casas Grandes and Guerrero, where the Maderista revolt was born. Now their war cry is for the constitution, which they assert has been disregarded at the national capital. They propose to assist the volunteer outlaws of Sonora state in their revolt against the party in power at Mexico City.

Desperate Fighting Reported.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Feb. 27.—Loyal troops from Lampasas engaged the revolutionary forces of Governor Garza of the state of Coahuila, near Monclova, 150 miles south of the border.
This afternoon, according to advices received tonight. The dispatch related briefly that a battle was in progress and the fighting was desperate, but did not state the number of men engaged, or if either of the forces had gained any advantage.

A dispatch from Cuernavaca, Mexico, near Mexico City, reports that the rancher company located there, controlled by German capital, has been forced to subscribe $5,000 to the cause of maintaining constitutional government in Mexico.

Records of the customs house and a branch of the national bank at Piedras Negras were moved secretly across the international boundary last night and affairs of the two institutions were conducted on the United States side of the border tonight.

Cubans Protest Against Murders.
HAVANA, Feb. 27.—A mass meeting in protest against the death of Francisco I. Madero, the late president of Mexico, Jose Pino Suarez and Gustavo Madero, was held this evening at the Campo de Marte, the once famous recreation camp. After the meeting a great crowd marched to the palace and the state department and other government buildings shouting,
"Down with Huerta," "Long live
Mexico," and occasionally "Long live Castro."

The Cubans are planning to welcome
the widow and the sister of Madero,
who are expected to arrive here on

NEW DEPARTMENT OF LABOR CREATED

House Agrees to Bill Already Passed by Senate; Up
to Taft Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The house agreed tonight to the senate amendments to the bill creating in the government a new department of labor,
to be supervised by a cabinet official.
The bill will be in President Taft's hands tomorrow and, if signed, will increase to 15 members the cabinet of the incoming administration.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The plea of union labor for representation in the president's cabinet may be recognized in the selection of Representative William B. Wilson of Pennsylvania to be secretary of the newly created department of labor. This information with other reliable advices came to the political leaders at the capital
today direct from Trenton.

Representative Wilson has been indorsed by the American Federation of Labor and was at one time secretary of the United Mine Workers of America. From the same sources it was learned that William C. Redfield of Brooklyn might be a member of the cabinet. For what portfolio he is being considered was not divulged, but it is known that the president-elect holds the highest regard for Mr. Redfield's views on the tariff and has for some time hoped to have him as one of his close advisers.

About the future of three portfolios
—agriculture, interior and war—little is known and it is hinted that they will be filled by men whose names
have not been generally mentioned heretofore. Though William A. Glasgow of Philadelphia, a lawyer, and Edgar Parrish of New Orleans, former president of the American Bar association, are reported still to be under consideration of the president-elect,
the most reliable information obtainable today is that James C. McReynolds of New York will be the new attorney general.

Confirmation comes from every side
that the president-elect has selected William J. Bryan for secretary of state. William C. McAdoo for secretary of the treasury, Joseph Daniels
for secretary of the navy and Representative Albert Burleson of Texas for postmaster general.

The name of Louis D. Brandeis still is known to be uppermost in Mr. Wilson's mind for secretary of commerce,
as the post now held by Mr. Nagel probably will be called hereafter. It is said Mr. Wilson from the first was anxious to place a progressive Republican in his cabinet and the selection of Mr. Brandeis is believed to be a result of that desire.

The information as yet with respect to diplomatic posts is meager. It became known today that Frederick C.
Penfield of Philadelphia and Henry N.
Morganthau of New York very likely will be chosen for ambassadorships,
the former to Rome and the latter to Berlin.

band's aid in his financial difficulties,

IF YOUR CHILD NEEDS A PHYSIC

If Its Little Stomach Is Sour,
Liver Sluggish and Bowels
Clogged.

Mother! look at the tongue! see if it is coated. If your child is listless, drooping, isn't sleeping well, is restless,
doesn't eat heartily or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with every body, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad; has stomachache, diarrhoea, sore throat, or is full of cold, it means the little one's stomach and liver and 34 feet of bowels
are filled with poisons and clogged up waste and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs,
and in a few hours the food, decaying
constipated matter, undigested food
and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea,
griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well and smiling child
shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luciduous figs, senna and aromatic laxative, it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious taste.
Mothers should always keep Syrup
of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator
needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages
and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name,
"Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna,"
prepared by the California Fig Syrup
Co. This is the delicious tasting, genu-

Plan Maneuvers.

Already they are planning some practice marches, perhaps from Galveston as far inland as Leon Springs, Tex., and the strategists of the war college have seized with avidity upon this opportunity practically to test
their theories of the brigade formation.

The navy, too, is falling back into its old peace routine, as evidenced by the resumption of target practice
by battleships stationed in Mexican waters.

Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss,
in receiving the dispatch of Troop D
of the Fourteenth cavalry from Fort Clark to Eagle Pass for temporary field duty, says that movement will not interfere with the concentration of the Fourth regiment if ordered. He says there are about 2,000 refugees at Eagle Pass.

Coming of The Sunbeam

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress
Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Few know it and without any strain upon the ligaments and enables
women to go through maternity without pain,
nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded
symptoms so dreaded by many mothers.
There is no foolish diet to harass the mind.
The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering. For all such avoidances. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural.
They know better. For to Mothers' Friend they have found a wonderful, penetrating remedy to bring all their troubles and experiences.
It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy now, and is really worth some prospective mother to whom a word in
"Mother's Friend" will come as a wonderful blessing. A full 100-page booklet is sold by all druggists and costs only $1.00 a bottle.
For external use, it is really worth its weight in gold. Write today to the Bradford Regulator Co., 127-Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

BATH TUB TRUST TO PAY FINE IF GOVT. DROPS OTHER CHARGE

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 27.—Representatives of the Standard Manufacturing company of Pittsburgh and other members of the so-called bath tub
trust, recently convicted of criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade, Edward Blane of this city today said they would pay the fines imposed on them
without further contest if the government would cancel a second criminal indictment which is pending against them. Mr. Blane has asked Attorney General Worksham for instructions.

Two indictments originally returned against the defendants, one charging conspiracy in restraint of trade and the other charging combination in restraint of trade. The latter still is pending. Nine of the individual and corporation defendants already have paid their fines, which ranged from $1 to $10,000. The Standard Manufacturing company received the heaviest fine, and, with other defendants, has petitioned for a new trial. No action has been taken on the petition. The fines must be paid on or before March 1.

speaks in the vernacular so that you can get at exactly what he means.

Meeting Was Informal.

Mr. Wilson referred also to the "uncommonly generous support" that Mr.
Marshall had given him ever since the Baltimore convention.

The meeting of the standard bearers
of the Democratic party was as informal as it was inconspicuous.

The governor really ended his work
at the state house yesterday and said good-by to his office today. The vice president-elect sat with the governor chatting and telling stories. They walked to and from a hotel, where they had luncheon. When Mr. Marshall left, the president-elect escorted
him to the outer door of the state house, a courtesy which heretofore he has never extended to his visitors.

Everything the governor said met with approval, remarked Mr. Marshall, and I am in accord with everything that he finally will propose to the people. He expressed his views to me, but I found they have been my views for years.

Wilson's Leave Soon.

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 27.—President-elect Wilson returned home tonight, after his long day at the state house in Trenton. On Saturday he will attend the inaugural ceremonies
of his successor, Joseph Fielder, president of the state senate, returning to Princeton, where the townfolk will give him a farewell demonstration.

Reception for Leaders.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—When
Vice President-elect Thomas R. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall arrive at the union station here, shortly after noon
tomorrow, they will be met by a reception committee and escorted to the hotel where they are to reside during their stay in the capital. A dinner will be given for the Marshalls tomorrow night by John E. Lamb of Indiana, to which the entire Indiana delegation in congress has been invited. With the exception of the Indiana dinner, Mr.
Marshall plans to remain in retirement
until the day of the inauguration.

Preparations are being made to greet William Jennings Bryan, who has advised Washington friends that he will arrive Sunday. A committee, of which Carter T. Brice is chairman, has been appointed to receive him. Plans also are being made for entertainment of members of the Democratic national committee, most of whom are expected
by Sunday. Chairman William F. Mc-Combs will reach here that day. He will give a dinner to the committee on the night of March 2.

Marshall on Mexico.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—Discussing the Mexican situation here tonight,
Vice President-elect Thomas R. Marshall declared, "I would spend my last dollar for an American citizen's life,
but I would not spill one drop of blood
to save an American citizen's dollar."
It is very difficult to say what would constitute a reason for intervention in Mexico, he continued. "There are so many rumors that I doubt if even those on the ground know the real facts."

"There are charges that a syndicate
heavily interested in Mexico is fomenting the trouble, also that along the border there will be some Americans killed to force intervention by the United States. My own view is that the troubles in Mexico are due to the fact that there is an upper crust
and an undercrust, but no middle class in that country."

Expresses Own Views.

The vice president-elect made it plain to interviewers that he was not in any way reflecting the views of President-elect Wilson, with whom he was in conference today in Trenton.
President-elect Wilson, he said, had discussed with him names suggested for cabinet positions, but that any announcement regarding the composition of the cabinet would have to come from some other source.

Mrs. Marshall, in an interview, described the "hike" of the suffragists
to Washington as "too silly for anything," and blamed the American man
for thoughtlessness and lack of interest in "things which make women attempt to fight political wrongs."

"I don't belong to an antisuffragist society," because I wouldn't do anything to oppose the vote. If women did, and I certainly would exercise the right of franchise," she added. "But women have yet to bring about dress reforms and settle the domestic problem before they endeavor to handle
men's affairs."

"REALLY DOES" PUT STOMACH IN ORDER AT ONCE--PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Time It! In Just Five Minutes There Will Be No Indigestion, Sourness, Heartburn, Gas or Dyspepsia.

Do some foods you eat hit back—
taste good, but work badly; ferment
into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? No, Mr. or
Mrs. Dyspeptic, stop this down. Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you
most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat
your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure.

Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts
your stomach in a healthy condition
the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach
—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching,
no eruptions of undigested food, you
head clears and you feel fine.

Put an "end" to stomach trouble by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia
or any stomach disorder.

Serious Problem Confronting Nineteenth Gen- eral Assembly Over Appropriations

By WALTER LAWSON WILDER.

DENVER, Feb. 27.—This was an "off day" in the general assembly and the legislative crop was scanty. The appropriations problem hangs like a dark cloud over both houses, and the Democratic leaders who have assumed the responsibility for guiding the affairs of state are carrying a big load of worry
with no reasonable prospect of relief.

Briefly stated, the facts are as follows:
The aggregate appropriations outlined in bills submitted to the two houses is about $7,000,000. Somewhat more than half of this amount, or about $4,000,000, is considered by the financial experts of the assembly to belong in the desirable class. The probable income of the state for the next two years will be about $2,500,000.
Problem: to make two and a half millions do four millions worth of work
and seven millions worth of satisfaction. Answer: It can't be done.

Governor Ammons insists, and he is doubtless sincere in his demands, that the legislature shall not make appropriations in excess of the expected income, and thereby the Shafer plan is forestalled. Two years ago the legislature gave appropriated pretty nearly everything that was asked. It created numerous boards and commissions and new offices, and made generous appropriations for expenditures of various kinds, with the result that the auditor was kept busy for nearly two years in explaining to persons who thought they were beneficiaries of such appropriations that the class in which they belonged had not been reached.

Present Session Handicapped.

This extravagance of the Eighteenth assembly adds greatly to the problem of the Nineteenth, for the present senators and representatives are not only debarred from expanding the business of the state government, but they must also reduce the former allowances.

It is plainly evident that the situation is troublesome to the majority leaders, and present prospects point to delay in its settlement with adjournment indefinitely remote.

The Hughes county bill seems to be in a fair way to follow the Alamosa county bill to final passage. At the next session the house passed it on second reading and this morning it went through on third reading, as did
also the bill giving the state live stock commission the right to care for abandoned and neglected live stock. These now go to the senate.

A lively discussion seemed probable upon Mr. Old's bill for the taxation of personal property brought, driven or coming into this state, with provision for half taxes upon property not in the state for the full term of one year.

After several members had expressed their opinions upon the bill it went over for a day, "retaining its place
upon the calendar," of course.

No Jury Service for Women.

The plan of extending jury service to women received its final blow so far as the present assembly is concerned, in this house this morning, when the bill
by Mrs. Lays and Mrs. Riddle, was killed, 35 to 15, an unusually light vote.
A similar bill had already been killed in the senate. A similar fate was encountered by Mr. Andrews' elaborate 23-page bill for the suppression of pools, trusts, monopolies and combines.

Another bill that was killed was house bill 151, which provided for the payment of the salaries of county judges out of the general fund of the county.

To correct the record and leave no
ground for attacking the public utilities bill upon claim of irregularity of passage, Senator Burris presented the entire measure, as amended up to date,
men to its police force.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The final report of the money trust committee on the concentration of money and credits in the United States formally was agreed upon tonight at an executive session of the committee. The report will be submitted to the house late tomorrow. The seven Democrats on the committee will sign the report,
and the four Republicans will submit their minority views on several points
involved in the report.

The full committee, with Counsel
Samuel Untermyer, concluded its consideration of the report at a rather spirited session. The original report, as framed by Mr. Untermyer, was amended in several particulars, and the final draft was the result of numerous compromises and concessions.

The report deals with the question of regulation of stock exchanges and clearing houses, and recommends a revision of the law relating to national banks. Two bills, embracing the remained legislation recommended by the committee, will accompany the report.

Students at Blind

School Give Recital

Students at the Colorado School for the Deaf and the Blind gave an interesting and highly commendable music recital in the school's auditorium last night. There were several piano and organ solos by Charlton Harris and Alfred Kloss, violin numbers by Guy Greenleaf and vocal selections by William Cowan. The school orchestra gave numbers from MacBeth, Faust, Clark, Ellenberg, Moses and Boleideu. The choir rendered one selection, "In the Glory of the Lord," by Handel.

News of Local Courts

Fannie Rush has filed suit in the district court against Effie Ishmael, asking $5,000 damages for alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, George Rush. Mrs. Rush declares that from the time of their marriage, in Oklahoma, May 1, 1895, until last Christmas day, she lived happily with her husband. Then, she avers, Effie Ishmael conceived a dislike for her, and by public entreaties and the writing of letters and inducements she caused her husband to desert her.

Mattie L. Johnson was granted a divorce from W. H. Johnson yesterday in the county court, on grounds of cruelty and desertion. The couple were married in Pueblo in 1908.

A jury in the district court yesterday returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Juanita Brooks, charged with a statutory offense. She was given five days in which to file motion for a new trial.

PUBLICATION TO RESUME

Under the editorship of W. W. Cort, '99, and W. M. Jameson, '10, the Colorado College Alumni monthly publication will be issued during the next four months. The magazine was started several years ago, but suspended publication shortly afterward. With the coming alumni celebration of the twenty-fifth year of President Sloan's leadership at the institution, new interest has been shown. The magazine will be sent free to all former students at the college, and the March number will appear about March 5.

Clean hair brushes with GOLD DUST

To clean hair brushes without injury, have ready two basins, one three-fourths full of boiling water and the other with the same amount of cold water. In the boiling water, dissolve a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder and shake the bristles up and down in the solution until they are thoroughly clean, then at once rinse well in cold water and stand the brush to dry in the air or in a warm place, but not too near the fire. Of course the back of the brush must not be wet.

Good hair brushes are costly, but if properly cared for they will last for years.

Do not use Soap, Naphtha, Benzol, Soda, Ammonia or any other harsh substance. Gold Dust has all desirable cleaning qualities, is a perfectly harmless and lasting form.

APOLLONIANS WIN

IN ANNUAL DEBATE

Secure Unanimous Decision of Judges; Defeat Pearsons for Ninth Time

By a unanimous decision of five judges, the Apollonian club of Colorado college last night defeated the Pearsons literary society in the annual debate between the two organizations. The victory was a clean-cut one, each judge giving his decision without consultation with another, and it made the ninth victory out of 14 debates that the Apollonian club has participated in.

The question, a single tax for Colorado, was debated by "Apoll," who, in a system of cleverly arranged rebuttals, tore the Pearson arguments to shreds. The winners advanced a series of arguments for the most part economic, showing that the system would mean ruin in the state.

Charles A. Carson, captain of the winning team, made the strongest speech of the debate, and Rowe Rudolph, the Apollonian opening speaker, followed a close second. A. A. Borden, the other Apollonian debater, also put up a good speech. Glen A. Bowers, captain of the losing team, again showed that he could debate as well as play football, and made a strong plea for the single tax system. C. E. Emery and Arthur R. Wilson, the other Pearson speakers, had strong arguments, but were weak in rebuttal. Owing to the system allowing five minutes to each speaker for rebuttal, this played an important part in the debate.

The question stated in full was as follows: Resolved, That all taxes on real estate improvements and on personal property should be abolished in the state of Colorado by reducing the rate of such taxes 20 per cent of the levy for the first fiscal year, and an additional 10 per cent each year thereafter, with a corresponding increase in the taxes on land values, until at the end of five years a single tax would be levied on land values alone.

"Land values" shall mean the sale value of the land itself, irrespective of improvements, and shall include franchise values of public properties. The judges were George M. Irwin, I. Polant, W. P. Kinney, Franklin E. Brooks and Henry C. Hall. Prof. J. W. Park presided.

Features of the evening were the scenic display by the Pearsons chorus. The entire club marched around the room blowing streamers and wearing chips pinned on their shoulders. A small negro boy was attired in Apollonian colors and took a seat at the winning team's table. The Apollonians carried canes and colored and marched around Perkins hall singing and cheering. Following their victory they celebrated with a supper at Tucker's restaurant.

MUST FILE LEGISLATIVE PETITIONS TODAY; THOSE OF CANDIDATES MARCH 10

Today is the last day, under the city charter, for the filing of ordinance or ordinance amendment petitions, and it is expected that three which have been in circulation during the last few days will be presented to the city council this morning. Two of the petitions are for the passage of ordinances, or the submission of the questions involved, to voters next April, and one proposes an amendment to the charter which necessarily must go before the people.

Proprietors of restaurants are behind a petition asking an amendment of the liquor ordinance to permit patrons to take liquor with them into restaurants and have it served with meals in the public dining room. The proposed amendment does not aim to change the absolute prohibition against use of all sources of liquor in private dining rooms or booths.

The amusement interests are sponsoring a petition which asks for an ordinance permitting amusement houses to open on Sunday. Both petitions have more than the required number of signatures.

The charter amendment petitions, of which the Civic league has charge, will be filed with the city clerk this morning, and may go to the council today. The proposal to be voted on is an amendment providing for the preferential voting system and the election of each commissioner to a designated commissionship. If the amendment is carried, second elections will be unnecessary.

One other petition is in circulation. It asks for a vote to compel the Santa Fe railroad to build an undercrossing where the company's tracks cross East Cucharas street.

With the above petitions filed today in accordance with the charter, the following matters will be voted on April 1: Candidates for mayor and two city commissioners; a bond issue of not more than $1,500,000 to refund water bonds; bond issue of $100,000 to refund city hall bonds; bond issue of $20,000 to add several pieces of motor apparatus to the fire department and otherwise equip it; Sunday amusement ordinance; amendment to the liquor ordinance; and amendment to the charter covering preferential voting. Only taxpayers will be permitted to vote on the proposed bond issues. Candidates for office may file petitions up to March 10.

DENVER POLICE ARREST WOMAN WANTED IN C. S.

Mrs. E. McIntire was arrested in Denver last night by officers from the Colorado Springs police. She is accused of securing a quantity of merchandise from local firms under false pretenses. She went under the assumed name of Mrs. Bowman in Denver. The police believe that in the arrest of Mrs. McIntire further disclosures may be made implicating her in the disappearance of considerable valuable merchandise.

O. P. GRIMES OUT

FOR MAYOR, FOUR

FOR COMMISSIONER

Oliver P. Grimes cast his name into the political ring yesterday and announced his candidacy for mayor of Colorado Springs. He formerly was exalted ruler of the local lodge of Elks and was sheriff of El Paso county for four years. Grimes has been mentioned before as a probable candidate, and his personal declaration has been expected for several days.

Four aspirants for city commissioner announced themselves yesterday, the new entries being Dr. H. R. Grover, former city physician; William T. Kasson, former alderman; W. B. Roby, former alderman, and A. G. Johnson, a motorman. Dr. Grover's candidacy bears the endorsement of many prominent Colorado Springs physicians. Roby is the only one of the candidates seeking election who does not make a statement concerning his candidacy. He is a well-known contractor, and is the only survivor of 43 men who came here before the town was founded. Statements issued by the other aspirants are as follows:

Grimes' Statement.

I desire to announce my candidacy for the office of mayor of the city at the ensuing election. Having been a member of the convention which framed the city charter, I am familiar with its provisions and in accord therewith.

The business of the city is the business of the public and it should be conducted upon the same principles as that of a private corporation or individual. The construction of our valuable water system has cost a large sum of money, leaving the city under a heavy bonded indebtedness at this time; the burden of taxation incident to this and other improvements is now being keenly felt by the people and it should be the constant effort of all officers of the city to keep the expense of operation and maintenance down to the minimum, to the end that our bonded indebtedness may be reduced to the lowest possible figure and our citizens given the benefit of lower water rents and lower taxes.

Every position in the service of our city can and should be filled by its citizens, and all the labor necessary to be employed in its upbuilding should be procured within its limits.

The safety of the lives and property of our citizens, the enforcement of the laws and ordinances of the city and the good name and reputation of the community are very largely in the hands of the police force of our city. The highest integrity as well as faithful service should be demanded and required of all officers and any officer who neglects his duty or closes his eyes to the infraction of the law, or who himself participates in the violation of the law, should be promptly and permanently discharged from the public service; no city can be well governed by officers who are not in sympathy with the enforcement of the law or who violate it themselves.

As a candidate for the office of mayor I shall favor the abolition of political party faction or special interest. I shall make no promises other than that of faithful service, the elimination of needless expense and the enforcement of the strictest economy in every department of the city government consistent with efficient service, and the strict enforcement of all ordinances of the city regardless of the position or social standing of the offender.

O. P. GRIMES.

Johnson's Declaration.

To the Voters of Colorado Springs: Having decided to become a candidate for city commissioner at the coming general municipal election, I desire to make a short statement of my position on some of the different matters concerning the city's welfare. In the first place, I am a firm believer in the idea that a public office is a public trust, and if elected would consider myself truly a servant of the people. I believe in the strict enforcement of all state laws and ordinances, with special respect to color or social standing. Am in favor of municipal ownership of all public utilities, and deem it both wise and expedient that the city prepare to take them over as fast as practicable. Believe the city should encourage and liberally aid the chamber of commerce in advertising our city in a systematic and comprehensive manner, not alone for tourist business, but enterprising that for business employment to the ever-increasing idle population. I am in favor of systematically improving the streets in such a manner as will benefit the majority of people. Am highly in favor of the proposed change in holding our municipal elections, from favor of installing water meters, so that each will pay for what they get and get what they pay for. I have been a resident of Colorado Springs for 17 years and go before the voters asking their support on my record as a citizen. Am not making this statement as a platform to "get in on," but more in the nature of a working agreement between the public and myself should I be elected.

D. B. JOHNSON.

Physicians Indorse Grover.

Colorado Springs, Feb. 28, 1913. We, the undersigned physicians, believing that the good health of our community is its greatest asset, that the knowledge of a physician is a very necessary qualification for the commission of public health and sanitation, with the consent of Dr. B. E. Grover desire to announce his candidacy for the position of city councilman at the coming election.

Signed: V. Schofield, D. P. Mayhew, E. L. Timmons, L. H. McKinnis, W. F. Martin, H. C. Moses, L. M. Bortree, W. H. Swan, C. F. Gardner, W. V. Mollin, Lloyd B. Allen, W. A. Campbell.

After careful consideration I announce myself as a candidate for the office of commissioner of the city of Colorado Springs. Having had the experience as chairman of the police committee, and later of the cemetery committee, before the adoption of the present form of government, and now serving my fourth year as inspector and quarantine officer in the health department, I feel better qualified thereby to vote intelligently and act for the best interests of our city. I pledge myself to use my efforts for the enforcement of all laws and ordinances as required by the charter. I believe in all improvements to advance the civic and commercial interests of our city, so far as this can be done by a reasonable taxation.

THAWS FROZEN WATER PIPE WITH ELECTRIC IRON

The electric flatiron has been put to many novel uses besides smoothing out the wrinkles of the family wash and restoring the creases in a baggy suit of clothes. An enterprising housewife awoke one morning to find the kitchen fire out and no time to build it if hubby was to have his breakfast in time to get to work. Not dismayed, she inverted the electric flatiron and fried an egg thereon, besides making coffee and warming up the rolls.

But the very latest use for the electric flatiron was discovered by a young householder who used the modern device to thaw out a frozen water pipe. During the night a cellar window had been left open and when the temperature took a sudden drop, the cloth under the needle and pedaling the machine at top speed, but, in reality, it is weary work and sure to tire one and very quick. A quarter of a cent an hour is so cheap that it hardly pays to job a sewing machine at all if there is any large amount of sewing to be done.

A FATAL MIXUP

From Judge.
"They tell me Thompson's engagement to Miss Blinks is off," said Slinthers.

"Yes. You see Miss Blinks knitted a pair of ear-taps for Tommy, and a couple of tea caddies for her mother, and some how or other the packages got mixed, so that when Tommy got the tea caddies, marked to keep your ears warm, it made him terribly angry, and he returned them, with an all-is-over-between-us note."

SEWING BY MOTOR POWER

The sewing machine will do everything that human hands can do, but it will not run itself. To get the very best service out of a sewing machine it is necessary to drive it by mechanical power, and for this purpose the tiny electric motor has no equal. It is small, convenient, perfectly clean, and will run the sewing machine four hours for a cent's worth of current.

Very few women are really clever with the needle, and not a few find it difficult to do good work on the sewing machine when they have to pedal it with the feet. It is quite a difficult task to keep the feet and hands employed at the same time. It requires considerable practice and experience and at best is tiresome. Nearly every woman has the desire to make her own clothes and to be some extent independent of the dressmaker. Usually she can devote but a short part of the day to sewing. Because of the present cost of other housework, it is important that the sewing machine be in excellent running order, and where it is driven by an electric motor it will sew faster and better and give the operator a chance to do better work with her hands and head.

ECZEMA ALL OVER CHILD'S FACE

Also on Right Arm. Itched and Burned. Got So Bad Had to Take Her Out of School. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

Big Pine, Cal.—"My little girl's trouble commenced with a cold sore which came in the corner of her mouth. It was pronounced ringworm. It kept getting worse all the time until one whole side of her face was covered with it. This was called eczema. The eczema appeared on her right arm, between the hand and elbow and came out all over her face in sores. A yellow water would run out of them. It itched and burned, causing her to scratch it and made her cross and irritable. It was mighty, as her face was a mass of sores. Her face got so bad that I had to take her out of school."

"I saw the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised, so I sent and got the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. She bathed her face and arms in warm water and Cuticura Soap and at night she would put the Cuticura Ointment on. In a little while her face was all right and she was bettered. Since Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured her." (Signed) Mrs. H. H. McMurtry, Apr. 5, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexioned, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little that it is almost criminal not to use them. U. S. WOULD PREVENT TRAFFIC MONOPOLY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The United States today began an action before the interstate commerce commission, to prevent what is called an attempt by the Union Pacific railway company to monopolize all the traffic bound for the Pacific northwest from points in the middle west and great lake points.

This action was brought through the interior department, which alleges in its petition that the Union Pacific, on December 16, 1911, published a tariff covering through shipments from points on the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and the great lakes to points on the Oregon Short line. The rates provided, the petition alleges, were not applicable unless shipments were turned over to the Union Pacific at its eastern terminals, at Kansas City, Mo.; Council Bluffs, Ia.; Leavenworth, Kans.; Omaha, Neb.; or Norfolk, Neb.

It is the contention of the interior department that this provision in the tariff prevents the shipment of freight from Mississippi and Missouri river and great lake points over the Northern Pacific railway, which it is contended, is a shorter route.

The Oregon Short line is declared to be a Union Pacific property and the latter road, through its tariffs, prevents the former from promulgating through rates over other lines from points mentioned in the petition to points on the Oregon Short line.

WILLINGTON, N. Z., Feb. 27.—Lady Robert E. Scott, widow of the Antarctic explorer, arrived here today on board the Aorangi.

Her brother, Lieutenant Bruce and Commander Edward Evans of the British navy, who brought back the sad news from the Antarctic, met Lady Scott on the pier.

Woman Who Spanked Andy Carnegie and Got Pension, 96 Years Today

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Nancy Harris, who did such effective work in spanking Andy Carnegie when he was a boy that she has been on his pension list for several years, will celebrate her ninety-sixth birthday tomorrow, still in good health, at the home of her daughter in Jersey City. The now retired iron master was a telegraph messenger boy in Pittsburgh when Mrs. Harris lived there near him. The young Carnegie had a penchant for sliding down the banisters of the front porch of the Harris home. At last Mrs. Harris' patience became exhausted and after a chase she seized the lad and laying him across her knee, spanked him thoroughly. Mrs. Harris has often declared that this saved the lad from coming to a bad end and incidentally it has reacted with comfort to her in her old age, because since recalling the incident, several years ago, Mr. Carnegie has been sending her $10 a month.

tion commission, with power to supervise corporations, pass on combinations and take over the work of dissolving illegal corporations. The report was written by Senator Cummins.

"The people of this country will not permit the courts to declare a policy for them in respect to this subject," says the report. "It is inconceivable that in a country governed by a written constitution and statute law, courts can be permitted to test each restraint of trade by the economic standard which the individual members of the court may happen to approve."

SENATE ATTACKS SUPREME COURT'S 'RULE OF REASON'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The senate interstate commerce committee presented a report today, vigorously attacking the supreme court's "rule of reason" in decisions on cases charging restraint of trade under the Sherman law. The report points out the dangers of "uncontrolled and unguided judicial discretion" and makes emphatic demand for an amendment of the Sherman law to remove from the courts the power to determine what "are reasonable" restraints of trade. The committee recommends new laws to define exactly what combinations are unlawful; also a federal interstate corpora-

ARNOLD SAYS TELEPHONE ORDINANCE IS EFFECTIVE

DENVER, Feb. 27.—Mayor Henry J. Arnold today served written notice on officials of the Mountain States Telegraph & Telephone company that the ordinance establishing lower rates for telephone service in Denver, adopted by the voters at the recent election, is considered in effect, and "will be enforced by the city authorities." The company is given until noon tomorrow to file its answer.

DORR IS CONVICTED OF MURDERING WEALTHY SALEM, MASS., MANUFACTURER

WILLIAM A. DORR, In Steel Cage, Where He Was Confined During the Trial.

SALEM, Mass., Feb. 27.—William A. Dorr of Stockton, Cal., was found guilty today of the murder of George F. Marsh of Lynn, Mass.

Dorr exhibited little emotion when the verdict of murder in the first degree was read. His face was slightly flushed and his jaw tightened. The judge of his law tightened and his hands gripped the rail in front of the prisoner's cage, but he recovered in a moment and sat quietly.

Under the law, sentence cannot be pronounced for 30 days. When the time the attorneys for the defense are privileged to file exceptions.

The jury was out about two hours. In his closing argument, counsel for the defendant said it was not claimed that his client was insane. Nevertheless, Judge Joseph F. Quinn, in his charge, said if the jurors believed Dorr to have been insane when he shot the aged manufacturer, they might return a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity. The court further stated that if the jury was satisfied, as asserted by the defense, that the death of Marsh occurred outside this county, it might find a verdict of not guilty "by variance," which would mean that the court did not have jurisdiction.

Dramatic Scene.
A dramatic touch was added as the trial came to an end, by the prisoner, who, when the court was about to charge the jury, rose from his seat in his steel cage, pale and trembling, and in a voice quivering with emotion, cried out: "I have just a few words I would like to say to reassert what I have said on the stand. Although I am 4,000 miles away from home, I feel that this jury will do what is right."

The body of Marsh, who was 77 years old, was found in the marshes near the boulevard in Lynn, April 12, 1912. He had been shot four times. So far as known, he did not have an enemy, and suspicion first fell on Dorr when he returned to his home in Stockton, Cal., after a hurried visit to the east.

Murdered in Automobile.
It was found he had been murdered in Lynn as Willis A. Dow, aged 30, made the acquaintance of Marsh. The latter was not seen alive after he got into an automobile for a ride, with Dorr, the afternoon of April 11, last. Later, in a diary owned by Dorr, the police found a rambling account of how the writer had hired a negro to do the job.

In his closing argument today, Attorney C. Neal Barney, for the defense, asked the jury to disregard the record in the diary as the self-accusation of a man who was beside himself with remorse and sorrow. He asserted that Dorr, as he had testified, killed Marsh during a quarrel brought about by an uncomplimentary remark concerning Miss Cynthia Marsh, Dorr's aunt, by the older man.

In summing up, District Attorney Arnold said that the death of Marsh was a cruel murder, deliberately planned by Dorr, who believed that with Marsh dead he would profit by a legacy which would revert to his aunt.

INVENTOR PROVIDES FOR SON'S PROTECTION IN WILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—While protesting that he had absolute confidence in his son's ability to care for himself, Talbert Lanston, a well-known inventor, who died a few days ago made in his will a strange provision for his son's protection, which just came to light today. After making a number of bequests, Mr. Lanston had written: "While I have full confidence in my son, Aubrey Lanston, in his intelligence, probity and sobriety, yet, in order to protect him in the event any attack is made upon his liberty, I direct the trustee to expend if necessary the sum of $10,000 in his defense."

WESTERN PACIFIC HEADS TO HARRIMAN CONFERENCE

Taft Fooled by New York Police System

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—President Taft was fooled by the police system of New York in the matter of former Mayor John H. McLaughlin. Mr. McLaughlin expressed this view in testifying today before the legislative committee for municipal police legislation.

The witness said that during his administration, six years ago, the system was so arranged that he could not get any one arrested in New York but one person, who would tell the truth. Today Mr. McLaughlin thought the rank and file of the police were more honest than dishonest. The witness was true, he thought, among police officers.

Mr. McLaughlin was positive that whether there is a fair or unfair system, the honest officers on the police force there is and has, both in system and in spirit, a latent, often active, which has thoroughly discredited the entire department in the eyes of the city.

DENVER WOMAN TELLS OF MEXICAN EXPERIENCE

DENVER, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Francis J. McConnell, wife of Bishop McConnell, resident bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in Denver, in a letter just received by relatives here, describes the experiences of herself and her husband in Mexico City during the recent revolt.

Mrs. McConnell tells of a shell crashing into the room occupied by herself and her husband, but not exploding. A friend was killed by a shell as the room just above them.

Under date of February 15, the letter says:

"Just a little while ago, one of the Americans was killed and another wounded. They occupied a room on the top floor, just above them. They were looking toward the arsenal with field glasses, and the rebels saw them and turned a rapid fire gun on them. Mr. Meredith was shot through the head and died instantly."

U. S. Soon Will Be Doing a Collect-on-Delivery Business by Parcel Post

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The collect-on-delivery will be added to the parcel post department of the postal service of the country on July 1 next. An order putting this into effect was signed today by Postmaster General Hitchcock.

Under the approved regulations, a parcel bearing the required amount of parcel post stamps may be sent anywhere in the country and the amount due from the addressee, and the collection will be made, provided the amount is not in excess of $10. The fee will be 10 cents, to be affixed by the sender in parcel post stamps. This also will insure the parcel to an amount not to exceed $50.

GOV. SULZER DIDN'T GET CHANCE TO FIRE MATTEAWAN DOCTOR

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Without waiting for a report from his committee of inquiry which has been investigating the Thaw scandal, Governor Sulzer sent a letter today to Col. John H. Scott, superintendent of state prisons, directing the removal of Dr. J. W. Russell, superintendent of the Matteawan State hospital, where Harry K. Thaw is confined. Colonel Scott said tonight he had not yet received the letter.

Action by Colonel Scott was made necessary, however, by the resignation of Dr. Russell, which was telephoned this afternoon from Matteawan. The resignation was accepted at once, and Colonel Scott designated Dr. Lee L. Leach, first assistant physician at the hospital, to take charge of the institution temporarily.

The governor sent a second letter to Charles S. Whitman, district attorney of New York, together with a copy of the testimony taken by the committee concerning the offer of $25,000 which Dr. Russell says was made to him by John N. Anhalt, a New York lawyer, if he would aid in releasing Thaw.

Counter Charge Made.
The testimony also included Anhalt's denial and his counter charge that Dr. Russell wanted to know where he came in on the $25,000 which Anhalt admits he received from an agent of Thaw as a "contingent retainer" to free Stanford White's slayer. This information, the governor says, he expects the district attorney to lay before the grand jury.

A third letter, with a copy of the testimony, relating to the acts and proceedings of John N. Anhalt, counsel at law, in relation to one Harry K. Thaw, was directed to the grievance committee of the bar association of New York county. "For such action in the premises, under the circumstances, as you may deem proper."

"I am sorry for that," exclaimed the governor when he learned that Dr. Russell's resignation had forestalled action by Colonel Scott.

Wanted Russell Thrown Out.
"I wanted Russell thrown out of office. I want it understood that while I am governor I am going to run down every grafter in the state. I don't care who he is or where he comes from, or who is behind him. And we have a lot of them."

The committee will end its investigation of the Thaw scandal tomorrow. I talked with chairman Carlisle last night," said the governor, discussing the committee's decision not to bring Thaw to Albany to testify.

"Mr. Carlisle said he believed the reason Thaw wanted to come to Albany was that Thaw was cunning enough to believe that such a step would again raise the question of his sanity and permit him to sue out another writ of habeas corpus to determine his mental condition. That is a deal he may see, but I do not. Whether Thaw does or does not testify, I do not believe he thinks he will get out of the lunatic asylum while I am governor."

Governor Sulzer said that Colonel Scott had offered his resignation, but he had asked him not to leave.

DARROW SAYS FREDERICKS FAILED TO KEEP HIS WORD

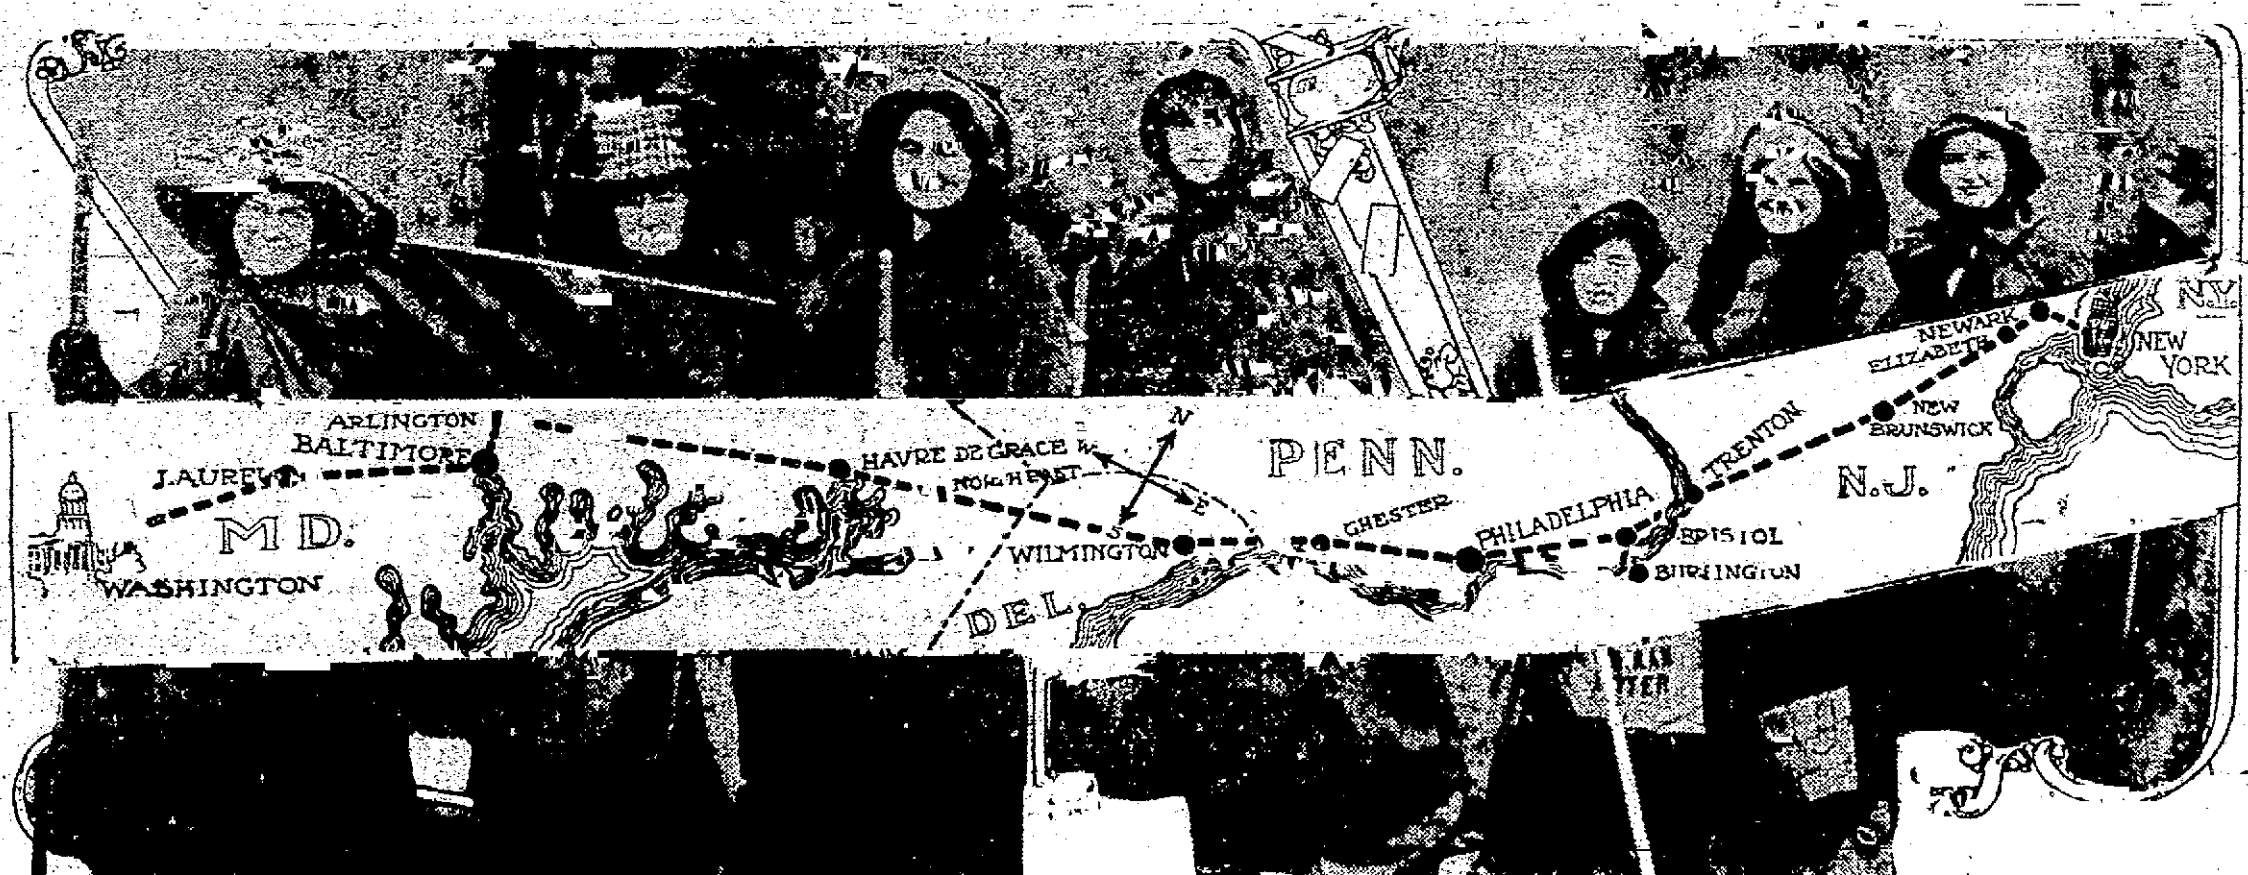

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—Clarence S. Darrow, testifying today in New York in his trial for alleged bribery charged District Attorney John D. Fredericks with a breach of faith in bringing about his prosecution.

Darrow said Fredericks had made a promise to drop everything connected with the McNamara affair when the two brothers pleaded guilty. The only exception, he said, was to be made in the case of Matt Schmidt, if the latter, who was said to have been an accomplice of J. R. McNamara in blowing up the Times plant, were returned to this country.

THE CRAZE FOR NEW COUNTIES

YESTERDAY the House passed the bill creating Hughes County, one of the ten new counties for which bills are now pending in the legislature. Seemingly the craze for new counties boils up in a more virulent form at each succeeding session. In the eastern part of the state, in the dry-farming section where the population is small and county revenues barely sufficient to maintain a county government, it is especially violent. Somebody who has property interests in a certain village conceives the brilliant idea of having it made a county seat, thereby increasing the value of his holdings. The next step is the introduction in the legislature of a bill creating the proposed county and naming it after some eminent politician.

If the makers of new counties want to do something really useful they will stop piling up needless expense on the taxpayers of the sparsely populated sections, and turn their attention to the readjustment of county lines in some of the mountainous sections. On the Western Slope there are several places where the rough character of the country renders the county seat almost inaccessible to a large part of the population. In such cases boundary lines should be readjusted so as to enable the people to reach the county seat with a minimum of travel and trouble. It is not a matter of forming new counties, but merely of rearranging the boundary lines of those which now exist.

BRYAN AND THE CABINET

ALTHOUGH it has been generally assumed ever since the election that Mr. Bryan would be Secretary of State in the Wilson cabinet, the fact of his acceptance of the place is nevertheless a little surprising. As a free lance Mr. Bryan is unquestionably the biggest man in the Democratic party, and he probably would have remained such despite the fact that Mr. Wilson's official position makes him the titular head of his party. At any rate Bryan as a private citizen would have continued to be the most influential Democrat for at least two or three years, or until the President, by the use of patronage or the exercise of conspicuous executive ability, had made his own position stronger.

But as Secretary of State Mr. Bryan will be politically at a disadvantage. Though filling the post of highest honor under the administration, and the one of greatest responsibility, he will still be merely one of the President's advisors. There will be little or no opportunity for the exercise of political leadership.

This assumption is justified by the careers of other great political leaders who have accepted cabinet positions under their successful rivals. Blaine gained nothing by being Secretary of State, under either Garfield or Harrison. Seward was a presidential possibility until he consented to head Lincoln's cabinet, but that act put him out of the running forever afterward. And it is the verdict of historians that both Clay and Webster similarly defeated their cherished ambitions to reach the White House when they accepted the portfolio of state.

The President-elect has discharged his obligation to Mr. Bryan by giving him the highest position at his disposal. But it is a safe assumption that the Nebraska statesman would be better off if he had de-

WHAT'S NEXT IN MEXICO?

THE report that Porfirio Diaz, who was deposed from the presidency of Mexico by Madero, will return to his native country has been denied, but the denial probably is entitled to no more consideration than other statements of Mexican leaders. What the effect of his return would be can only be guessed at, but it certainly would produce an entirely new set of complications.

Diaz was driven out nearly two years ago as the result of a popular uprising based on his autocratic disregard for the welfare of the common people. He had ruled Mexico with an iron hand for a third of a century, and his methods made the premise of popular government a mere farce. In many important respects his rule was beneficial, for he preserved peace and did much to develop the country by inviting foreign capital and affording it the necessary safeguards. But his government was a military despotism; nothing was done to improve the condition of the common people, or to secure for them the rights which in other countries are exercised as a matter of course and are still unknown in Mexico, so it was not surprising that when Madero organized a revolution the people flocked to his standard. The reforms which Madero promised were necessary and desirable, but his difficulty lay in the impossibility of introducing them quickly enough. The people expected too much of him and when they found that he did not immediately make good all of his pledges his popularity quickly waned.

The events of the last year show clearly that Mexico is not yet ready for such a liberal program as Madero planned. Its next ruler, whoever he may be, must, if he is to remain in power, model his conduct in large degree after that of the first Diaz. This does not mean that it is necessary to practice the savagery which marked the murder of Madero and Suarez, but it is nevertheless plain that only a policy of stern repression can preserve order.

This seems to be the attitude of Huerta, the provisional president, and press reports of the last two or three days indicate that it is having a good effect. But the question arises, what would happen if Porfirio Diaz should return? Without doubt he would be welcomed by a large portion of the population, his past misrule would be forgotten and the affair would be made a spectacular ovation. But it is hardly to be supposed that his progress to the capital would be unimpeded, for Huerta is not likely to give up his newly acquired honors without a struggle.

The comparative tranquillity that has followed the killing of Madero is welcome news in this country, for it lessens the probability of intervention. But it is still apparent that the time is far distant when Mexico's problems will be solved.

THE FRIEDMANN TREATMENT

IT IS easy to understand the tremendous popular interest in Doctor Friedmann's tuberculosis serum. More people die annually of consumption both in America and elsewhere than of any other disease, and the seeming hopelessness of the situation of every victim explains the tremendous rush of patients to greet the discoverer of the supposed cure on his arrival in New York. It is a case of the drowning man clutching at a straw.

But it is not so easy to understand the apparent distrust with which the remedy is viewed by the medical profession. Perhaps this is because of the extravagant claims made for it, claims which certainly would not be justified until thorough tests had demonstrated its value. Evidently such tests have not been made, and Doctor Friedmann has pursued a mistaken course in announcing his remedy before making sure of its actual value. It would be better if the verdict of the medical profession were withheld until a few competent physicians can test the serum on a large number of patients and under different conditions.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

THE SERVANT PROBLEM.

To create schools of domestic science will cause the underpaid factory and store employee to qualify for the other better paid job of servant. Then there will be a greater competition in the servant market and instead of wages of $25 to $40 a month, we may expect the supply to find its level according to the law of supply and demand, as it has in other lines of work. With plenty of unemployed, skilled servants, would the employer give the servant any better conditions than now with a scarcity of skilled servants?

This simple question has been answered many times in other crafts that were once without this sure over-supply of skilled workers and were paying good wages. These wages were an attraction for the unskilled, and so the unskilled became skilled and in the competition of labor wages were reduced, or the buying power of the wage was reduced, or after several years of craft apprenticeship, perhaps a machine displaced these skilled mechanics and a boy or girl ran a machine that displaced several skilled workers.

Socialism will give the workers control of the machine of industry, reduce the hours of work sufficiently to do away with the unemployed and there will be no competition in the labor market.

A. C. SWISHER.

Colorado Springs, February 27.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

On behalf of the domestic servants of Colorado Springs, I wish to contribute a short article to your Open Parliament.

The suggestions of Mr. Frank D. Warren in regard to the servant problem were very good ones, inasmuch as such a school would partially solve the servant problem for the mistress. But what about the problems that confront the maid?

The more self-respect and intelligence a girl has the more unloved she is for this work; that is, as far as her own happiness and contentment is concerned. If such a school could turn out practical pieces of machinery, without human feeling, the problem would be solved. It is true, however, that a girl can find an opportunity to earn an honest living in a comfortable home, but what pleasure can she find in this work when she is not even permitted to rest in a comfortable place? The girl who could snatch before it is time to start dinner. She must either climb two flights of stairs or sit in the kitchen. It is a great deal like having a hungry man into the kitchen when an eight-course dinner is being prepared, then telling him to keep hands off; that the variety of good food is not for him, but that he may have that stale loaf of bread.

That is really as much good as a domestic science school would do her. The girl who is not so unloved in the kitchen (cold food, no heat, no hot water, and the one spot in the house where she may call her own is as Mrs. Mason says, a small, poorly furnished room off the kitchen or on the third floor.) The main reason most girls prefer such a room to their work is because they have a place where, in their home, they may not have a dining room, or a parlor, or a sitting room in the kitchen because the rest do. The comparison is the room in her flesh, not the thing itself. What girls are treated as they are, there will never be a higher standard.

I have been a domestic for three years. I have only to look about me to know that I am above the average maid in many respects. I wish to say that in the homes I have been employed, I have been treated as the exception, which only goes to show that there are some nice places for a girl. Offer the girl human treatment and less money and you will have little trouble in finding and keeping a good, competent, trustworthy girl.

N. E. H. A SERVANT.

Colorado Springs, February 27.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Says "Citizen" in the Open Parliament: "When we employ a maid and pay her exorbitant wages, she is not giving us something for nothing, and we have a right to the privilege and privacy of a home. Should we have to give up these we may as well patronize a first-class boarding house."

Good idea, Citizen. Centralize the industry of feeding the people, fewer employees will be needed, labor-saving devices will further reduce the expense, thus reducing the cost of eating. The displaced servants would be thrown on an over-supplied labor market, and if they got another job, must, of course, displace some other employees, say, of store or factory, for an example, who in turn must offer their labor at a reduced price to get the boss to displace someone else and give them jobs. See how the endless chain of displacement continues with a like reduction of unfavorable working conditions.

But these employees of the new centralized industry of feeding us would form an industrial union, for they always do when closely associated in industries. Then they will demand a shorter working day, sufficient to give those displaced servants jobs helping in this concentrated industry. Then, if the patrons don't like the advanced price of service caused by short hours, they may hire private servants and surely they would find the lesson these servants had learned through industrial unions—solidarity and class consciousness—had made servile servants into rebels to the profit system. Keep your eye on Socialism.

Colorado Springs, February 27.

(Note: The writer of the above letter has misquoted "Citizen" who said: "When we have to have our freedom of ideas and speech curtailed by the party of the second part at the table while enjoying our repast, we had just as well open a first-class boarding house and make it a business proposition.")

USURERS LOSING GROUND.

From the St. Joseph Gazette.

There is a living hope that the crusade against usury in the shape of the "loan shark" will assume a more serious and practical form than that which will compel the issue in every state in the immediate or far future. The sooner the better. The fruitage of the usurer's industry is exactly what it was when Christ overturned the tables of the money changers in the temple. It has never been anything else—always and forever the usurer has paralyzed faith, destroyed hope and mocked charity. He sneaks out the windows of the soul and defiles the portals of the ways of the Lord.

The Household Efficiency Club

By RUTH CAMERON.

Are you tired of the word efficiency? I hope not, because I have a lot more to say on this subject. Furthermore, I want you to have a lot more to say. In short, let's have a household efficiency symposium.

I suppose the majority of my reader friends are women, and the majority of these women are homemakers. And I feel sure that more than the majority of these homemakers are alert, progressive women, anxious to invent short-cuts and keen to take advantage of other women's ideas.

Very well, then. Why not have a woman's exchange of short-cuts? Send them to me, and every few weeks I will give over the column to publishing them.

Seems to me we can help each other a lot this way. Don't be afraid of saying something obvious. What is obvious to you may be a new viewpoint to your neighbor, or it may be something she has known, but hasn't ever put into practice. The suggestion of it may be just the bolt that will bolt her out of her rut. For instance, every woman must know that she will save energy and time in clearing off her dining table if she uses a tray. My tin trays can be bought for 10 cents apiece, and yet I doubt if one woman in ten uses a tray.

I read in an efficiency article the other day that you should always have the dish drainer on the left of the dishwasher, because you naturally wash the dishes with the right hand and lift them out with the left, and if you have the drainer on the right you must lift the dishes awkwardly across. I have most emphatically proved the value of this little point.

Furthermore, I find it increases my speed to make the extra effort to place all dishes of a kind together in the drainer, instead of haphazard. One uses a certain set of motions in wiping each dish and if one wipes all of a kind together, one does not have to change the gear, so to speak. Of course, this is the principle on which all factory work is done.

Again, did you ever study the position of your hands in dish wiping? It seems to me that if you hold the left hand close to the drainer, bring the dishes to it with the right hand, then deposit the dish with the left hand while you reach for another with the right, you can wipe very rapidly.

An English housewife gave me this intelligent hint for sweeping day: "If you want to sweep under a bureau, remove the bureau from the lower drawer instead of moving the whole thing."

"Pull your bed out and go round the head in instead of the foot" was offered me as a short cut, but somehow it never seemed to help me. Perhaps it may fit your case.

Don't be afraid to send the simplest suggestion.

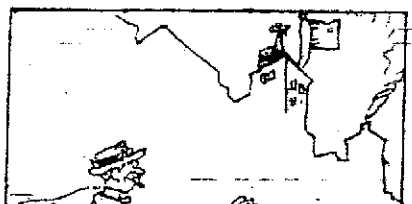

Modern Inventions THE WEATHER OBSERVER.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Swash"

The weather observer is an improvement on the old weather prophet who used to look at a goose bone in December and tell what sort of weather might be expected in March. The old-style prophet used his rheumatism, the zodiac and an old second-hand telescope in mapping out the year's weather and usually relied upon the shortness of his clientele's memory to escape the consequence of his mistakes.

The weather observer is a prophet, too, but he is on a scientific and business basis. He is a man who is paid by the government to feel the pulse of the atmosphere each morning, take a look at the clouds on the Atlantic coast by telegraph, sniff the muzzling storms of the Rockies by wireless and then chart out the meteorological doings of the day.

"Seeing citizens always carry an umbrella when he puts out a fair weather sign."

The weather observer doesn't wear long hair and a telescope and he isn't interested in next summer's temperature. He works from day to day. He is a trained sleuth whose duty it is to follow the wandering blizzard and track it with relentless care across the country, warning the regions which are soon to be infested. He logs the rambling area of low pressure and puts storm flags ahead of it so that when it arrives in a happy valley and prepares to do business it finds to its disgust that the strawberry beds have been taken in and woolen mufflers have been lost from the chamber of commerce. He maps out the probable course of the high pressure area and sends the glad tidings ahead in order that the summer picnic and the Chautauque may get in their deadly work. He does business with a telegraph sounder in one hand and a map of the country in the other, and so long as a storm stays on the track and does not lose time on a heavy upgrade or switch off into Oklahoma at a junction point, he can prophesy tomorrow's temperature within two degrees.

People make fun of the weather observer because he makes mistakes, and seeing citizens always carry their umbrellas when he puts out the fair weather flag. But his hailing average is better than Ty Cobb's, and since he has taken up his work, the life of the market gardener has become less barren and sadder with care.

In returning it, we wish to thank you for your consideration in offering it, and to assure you that our rejection implies no lack of merit in the article itself, simply that we have already on hand more articles of a like character than we can use for some time. THE HASKIN LETTER

COOPERATIVE MARKETING

VI—CONSUMERS' ASSOCIATIONS

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

It is a potent fact that the high cost of living in the cities is added to more by those middlemen at the consumer's end of the chain of distribution than by those closest to the producer. In other words, the bulk of the gross profit on articles of consumption arises from the margin that the retailers add. The jobber and wholesaler sell in such big lots that their expense of selling a dozen eggs and their profit together may represent less than a cent a dozen. On the other hand, the retailer must sell in small lots, and he may not sell as many eggs in a year as a big wholesaler sells on a dull day. A cent a dozen might yield the wholesaler more net profit than six cents a dozen yield the retailer. Even if the retailer were operating exactly at cost, he would probably have to add 50 per cent to his cost price to come out on his sales. But when he adds his profits also—profits large enough to make a living for himself and his family—his gross percentage on his day's sales must be high.

Yet, in spite of the fact that the margin required by the retailer is much larger, perhaps, than that of all the other middlemen in the chain, very few distribution taken together, there are very many fewer consumers' organizations than there are producers' organizations. Where such organizations have been established in the cities, they have failed more frequently than not, usually for want of patronage—a condition that proves to the mind of the retailer that he renders the consumer more satisfied service than he is rendered by the consumers' organization itself. In other countries there are cooperative stores by the thousand which make a great success, and there are a few in the United States that have done so, while new experiments are being launched every month.

Consumers' Organizations.

It is probable that there are more organizations of consumers among farmers than among city people. These buying associations are organized in different ways. One system used in some localities is the "beef ring." In order to have fresh beef at reasonable prices, a number of farmers form a small association large enough to contract with a stock-raising farmer. Each farmer takes his turn in furnishing a steer, for which he is allowed regular market "on-the-hoof" prices. One member of the ring understands the art of butchering and meat cutting and he is allowed two or three dollars for each beef he kills. The hide and other by-products are sold, and the proceeds are deducted from the cost of the beef. Each farmer is then given his share of the beef at proportionate prices for each cut. The one farmer who desires more than his share of the cheaper cuts, he may exchange better cuts for it. In this way the farmers are able to have fresh beef all the time and at prices that approximate those at which the retailer buys his carcasses. Think of fine porterhouse steaks for fifteen cents a pound and the best rib roast for twelve! That is what cooperation in a "beef ring" means.

Experience Many Difficulties.

Consumers' buying organizations in many quarters experience the same difficulties that individual consumers experience in getting the benefit of wholesale prices. There are big forces that will sell direct to the consumer, and also to organizations of consumers, but the common experience has been that it is difficult for such organizations to get standard goods at standard wholesale prices. Whenever cooperative buying has had its greatest success there has been behind the cooperative retail business a cooperative wholesale business. There are big forces that will sell direct to the consumer, and also to organizations of consumers, but the common experience has been that it is difficult for such organizations to get standard goods at standard wholesale prices. Whenever cooperative buying has had its greatest success there has been behind the cooperative retail business a cooperative wholesale business.

It has been found that where buying clubs have been organized obstructions of all kinds have been placed in their way, and that only those with persistent grit and determination have been able to stand the strain. The retailer usually helps along the movement. The next day, the regular stores were advertising pork chops, delivered and charged, at 15 cents a pound.

It is such cooperation among retailers against the cooperative market that has been most effectual in preventing the spread of cooperative buying in the United States.

Hibbard & Company

THE MYSTERY IN ACTING

David Warfield, Star in "The Return of Peter Grimm," Can Not Analyze His Methods

Hartley Davis in Outlook Magazine.

"I never study in the sense in which that word is conventionally used. I told you I wasn't an intellectual actor. My way is very simple. I read a complete play four or five times. Then I read my part over and over until it gets into my system. The things which move me most in the first reading become the most effective scenes in the play; and, if I am not stirred from the very first, no amount of building up, no subterfuge, enables me to increase the value of the scene. I don't know how or where the knowledge of what I am to do comes to me. I simply seem to feel it. It is a sort of intuition. It seems to me that the really successful actor is in a way hypnotized by the character he plays. It possesses him to a wonderful degree. It takes possession of his entire personality, culminating in the climactic scenes with something that has in it the nature of hysteria. To me it is a kind of mystery. At times I strike awful notes of agony which seem to me more terrible than my own unaided imagination could conceive. I have known moments when the acting seemed to reach heights so much greater than I that I have been almost appalled. You see, I can't explain it at all. I can hardly even describe it to make it sound reasonable.

Doesn't Feel the Emotions.

"You are not to think that I actually feel the emotions I try to portray every time I go on the stage. If I did, I should be worn out before the season was a month old. That is where the mechanics comes in. It is impossible for an actor to portray any great emotion unless he has really experienced that emotion. Once having had that experience, his technique will enable him to give the effects of it without any great drain upon his physical or mental powers.

"I find that everyone doesn't know human nature—at least, not in the theater. It is all very well to read a long speech gracefully, with a finished rhythm. But people don't talk that way. They talk as I am talking to you; they stammer, they hem and haw, struggle for the right word; and that is the way I talk on the stage. I try to be just natural and honest. My characterization is built up of an infinitude of little things, and in this Mr. Belasco is a remarkable aid, as well as in the big things.

Peter Grimm a Difficult Part.

"Never have I played a part which frightened me so much, which has proved so difficult, as that of Peter Grimm, for, you know, in two acts of this play Peter Grimm is a spirit. There is no mechanical art by which the idea of a disembodied spirit can be visually conveyed. Manifestly, I must stand on the stage in the flesh.

There is no mechanical aid whatever to give the impression that I am not an ordinary human being. It must all be done by suggestion. In the second act I am on the stage for 55 minutes, and that one act takes more of my vitality than three whole performances of "The Music Master." For nearly an hour I must concentrate my forces to think every blessed thing I make the people about me say, the people who can neither see nor hear me. If I did not succeed in this, I would lose my countenance and the spirituality of the idea would be lost. I would become ridiculous. In all that time the many speeches I have are really one long soliloquy. I never once can catch the eye of the person I am talking to. I must look through him. If the girl I love comes in for a second, the whole play becomes ridiculous. "The Return of Peter Grimm" is by far the most difficult thing I have ever done, and I cannot tell you how I learned to get these effects any more than I can tell you how I learned to get the others. They are all a part of the great mystery."

PURIFYING WATER BY ELECTRICITY

Ozone, Produced by Electrical Machines, Now Used to Purify Drinking Water in Baltimore

The water supply in the city of Baltimore is sterilized by the use of ozone gas generated by electricity. It is said that the new method is quicker and better than the best sand filtration plants or the use of alum hypochlorite of lime. The new method requires only one-tenth of the area needed for rapid sand filtration. It has long been known that ozone is a powerful deodorizer and purifier of air or water. In Europe it has been very successfully applied to the sterilization of the drinking water supply and now the enterprising city of Baltimore has adopted it. Ozone is a form of oxygen, and when present in air or water quickly unites with any dangerous organic substance and reduces it to harmless water or ash. The Baltimore Water and Electric company has built an ozone plant at its Herring Run station consisting of a raw water chamber, aspirator heads, ozone chambers, ozone generator and a time contact basin or mixing well. The ozone generator consists of a boiler-plate shell and head 36 inches high and 38 inches in diameter. In this shell are a large number of aluminum tubes containing metallic tubes which serve as insulators for metallic tubes connected to one terminal of a transformer. The other terminal of the transformer, which gives from 10,000 to 15,000 volts, is connected to the ozone generator shell. When the circuit is closed, a continuous violet discharge occurs between the inner and outer tubes, producing ozone in the air passing through. By means of the time-contact basin or mixing cell the water is made to move horizontally as well as vertically in contact with the ozone so as to give it a long time of action. Current is supplied to the transformer at about 2,000 volts, and there is a separate 5-kilowatt transformer for each mixing cell, or basin. The capacity of each basin is 1,000,000 gallons of water in 24 hours. This Baltimore installation is one of the first in this country, but ozone has been extensively used for the sterilization of water supplied in Europe for several years and with great success. Foremost among these installations may be mentioned the cities of St. Petersburg, Paris, Chemnitz, Nice, Madrid, Milan, and Paderborn. Extensive plants are also in operation in other cities. St. Petersburg will increase the size of its plant at an expenditure of $5,250,000. The advantages of this method are obvious, particularly in low cost of operation, simplicity and the total absence of poisonous residue or taste. New York has 750 hotels, able to accommodate 350,000 persons.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

PLANS FOR MERGER
NOT YET DISCLOSED

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 27.—The banking house of Joseph Walker and Sons, which had underwritten the issue of stock of the Colorado Mines, Railways and Utilities corporation of Delaware, has not as yet completed the details of the scheme for handling this security, since letters to El Paso stockholders, explaining the plan, have not been received. It is expected that the plan will be forthcoming shortly. The firm will take over the Golden Gate mine, and perhaps will get hold of one or two of the other big producers of the district.

In the meantime the El Paso mine is shipping about four cars a day or one that will settle at $20 a ton. It is earning 14 per cent per year on its present capitalization, and there is plenty of ore in sight to permit this for five years, if no other ore is opened up by the mine.

INDEX M. & M. COMPANY
IS TO BE REFINANCED

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 27.—That the Index Mining and Milling company, of which William K. Foley is president and general manager, will be refinanced, and that plenty of money will be forthcoming to start in on a thorough plan of development work, is news from the east, where Mr. Foley has been. It is understood that an offer has been made to pay up all debts of the company and still allow plenty of money for the sinking of a shaft for a certain amount of stock has been made and refused by the company.

Just when work in this property will be started is not known, but the latest news from the east is that the Index company will be refinanced.

SEARCH MADE FOR BLACK
DYKE VEIN ON BULL HILL

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 27.—Duney and company are working in the Panzer claim, on Bull Hill, and are running a crosscut south and east from the shaft to open the Black Dyke, which intersects this country. It is believed that a good body of ore will be found on either side of this dyke, since this has been the case in a number of other properties of Bull Hill.

For that same Black Dyke, which has been opened in the Burns property, Thomas Johnson is running a crosscut in the North Burns shaft, on the fourth level. When the dyke is reached, it is anticipated that a good body of ore will be found on either side of it.

Likewise, in the Pharmacist mine, on Bull Hill, one of the old mines and, in fact, one of the first to be operated in this district, there is a crosscut being run by L. G. Carlton and company to open that same dyke. All are of the opinion that wherever it is found there is a good chance that some ore will likewise be located there, on either side of it. Such has been the case before, and the reason for this is that it should occur again.

RICH STRIKE IS MADE IN THE MODOC PROPERTY

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 27.—In the Modoc mine, which shipped the best average grade ore sent out last year from any property of the district, there has been opened a new and important ore body between the tenth and eleventh levels. The ore mined from this strike is of the two-ounce grade. Details concerning the discovery are not available, other than to say that the vein will make a good strike.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Shutting down of export demand caused weakness today in wheat market. Market closed heavy at a decline of 1/4¢ to 3/4¢. In corn, the outcome was the same as last night, down, and for oats a decline of 1/4¢ to 3/4¢. Provisions wound up dealer by the close to 3¢.

Best sentiment ruled the wheat market throughout the day. Cables were mostly bullish, depending on the bull side. Not only had foreign inquiry been halted by the previous day's advance, but there were predictions of more liberal shipment from Argentina. In addition, reports came that the crop outlook for India had greatly improved in consequence of rain, while as for the United States winter wheat belt, the prospect was declared to be nearly ideal.

Assertions from the southwest that country offerings of wheat were much smaller seemed to attract no attention, although a notable fall in Kansas city showed a notable falling off. It was pointed out that total arrivals at primary points were 744,000 bushels, against 254,000 a year ago. Clearances of wheat and flour equaled $32,000,000.

After a fair advance, due to stormy weather, corn reacted under free selling, as well as aggressive short selling, brought about by the break in wheat. Leading shorts covered around the top, and then buying orders suddenly gave out. Relative weakness in wheat was explained by some increase expected in the movement from the farm.

Despite weakness in the hog market, speculative buying carried prices sharply higher. The purchasing was based on guesswork. The monthly statement Saturday would be bullish in regard to stocks on hand.

Baking
Powder

For this is the baking powder
that makes the baking better.

It leavens the food evenly
throughout; puffs
it up to airy lightness, makes it delightfully appearing and wholesome.

Remember, Calu-
met is moderate in price—highest in quality.

Ask your grocer for Calumet. Don't take a

EACH SEEKS DIVORCE

Both Charles H. Coates and his wife, Mrs. Evelyn R. Coates, are seeking divorce in the district court on allegations of infidelity and cruelty, and each asks the custody of their children—Haskell, aged 11, and Charles, aged 4 years. Each claims that the other is unfit for the custody of the children, and Mrs. Coates, in her cross complaint, asks for $10,000 alimony. Mr. Coates is a special agent and adjuster for the Germania Life Insurance company, at a salary of $300 a month, it is claimed. The case probably will go to the jury today.

The couple were married in Chicago, August 24, 1908. Less than a year ago Coates filed suit in the district court for a divorce, claiming that their mother was not a fit person to care for them, he demanded custody of their children. He alleged that his wife kidnapped their two children from their home on North Nevada avenue, when she learned of his accusations

ALBERT PHILLIPS

Albert Phillips, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers of Sacramento, Cal., who has been selected to act as their representative on the board of arbitration, composed of himself and W. W. Atterbury, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania railroad, and a third party, selected by the first two, to decide on the controversy between the railroad and the employees. Within 30 days after the board has been completed, it must have reached a definite decision on the points in question.

All theatergoers will wish to see Mr. Warfield in his newest impersonation, that of the good old Dutch florist, Peter Grimm, in the play that is said to be the greatest novelty of this generation.

The story of "The Return of Peter Grimm" is of peculiar interest at this time, as it has incorporated in dra-

ing flowers, and it leaves him fresh with the spirit of goodness and simplicity, just as the joy of music gave to "The Music Master" his good, convincing influence of his life. But Peter Grimm's Dutch ancestry finds him strong in ruggedness, which reveals itself in the exuberant and intense movements of the play. The character gives Mr. Warfield all the opportunity for the intense portrayal for which he is noted. Mr. Warfield's rendition of the role of good, clean manhood has given him a place in the esteem of theatergoers all his own, and has made him second to no other actor in the love of the public, and this in itself will

matic form the thoughts that have of late taken hold of some of the most brilliant minds of the world. Among these, William T. Stead, Prof. Hyslop, James and others who have been shining examples of the cult of spiritualism. The genius of David Belasco has for the first time in the history of the theater based an entertaining play upon this subject. In addition to this novel effort, an important part of the success of the play is said to be the uplifting nature of the performance, and the bright, cheerful and hopeful view it gives of problems that humanity had, as a rule, heretofore been fearful to face and think of.

The new character which the play gives to David Warfield is of greatest concern to theatergoers, and they are eagerly questioning of what nature it is. Will it be as sweetly throbbing with humanity as was "The Music Master," with the charm and great dramatic moments of that never-to-be-forgotten character. The public who applauded the play all last season in New York have fully answered those questions in the affirmative. They declare that Peter Grimm in the intense dramatic scenes that are given him, and the softness of his good heart is a companion portrait to be placed beside the beloved "Music Master."

Peter Grimm is a grower of flowers. He lives among the things that bloom in the fields. For generations his people have been in the business of growing flowers, and it leaves him fresh with the spirit of goodness and simplicity, just as the joy of music gave to "The Music Master" his good, convincing influence of his life. But Peter Grimm's Dutch ancestry finds him strong in ruggedness, which reveals itself in the exuberant and intense movements of the play. The character gives Mr. Warfield all the opportunity for the intense portrayal for which he is noted. Mr. Warfield's rendition of the role of good, clean manhood has given him a place in the esteem of theatergoers all his own, and has made him second to no other actor in the love of the public, and this in itself will compel interest to see him in this, his latest characterization.

One of the best parts of a Belasco performance is the element of surprise. No description could adequately tell in advance all the little details that go to make the success of any Belasco production. So little of the story of the play is therefore given in advance. It is known, however, to contain a story of intense dramatic interest, full of the thrilling of heart interest and love. The motive of the play appears from the following lines that are spoken by Peter Grimm:

"Only one thing really counts—only one thing—love. It is the one thing that tells in the long run; nothing else endures in the end."

The success of "The Return of Peter Grimm" as is known, kept the play in New York for about a year. It had at first been arranged for the play to remain in New York this year, also, and duplicate the long run of two years which "The Music Master" enjoyed, but Mr. Belasco decided upon more ambitious plans for his star.

Mr. Belasco is sending her original company, and production unchanged, as was seen last year at the Belasco theater, New York. The company will include Marie Bates, Janet Dunbar, Marie Richmond, Thomas Meighan, Joseph Brennan, Henry F. Greene, William Boag, John F. Webber, Percy Holden and Tony Bevan.

Women worked for 14 hours at a stretch.

City Attorney McKesson does not believe that the law can be applied in such a case, owing to the fact that such work is "casual" employment, and is only for one day. District Attorney Purcell is of the same opinion.

On the ground that the law states what specific occupations are prohibited from working more than eight hours. The law provides that those doing clerical work be prohibited, but does not deal with casual employment.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW DOES NOT APPLY TO ELECTION

Will the eight-hour law for women interfere with their acting as clerks and judges at elections?

This is the question that many have been asking since the election in Colorado City Tuesday night, when 12

Mix the Breakfast Biscuits the Night Before—

the Morning

If the family do not all eat breakfast together, you can bake a few at a time. If you are having hot biscuits for supper, mix and cut out enough more for breakfast. They will be much nicer freshly baked than warmed over.

Of course, you can't do this very successfully with sour milk and soda or with any of the old fashioned, single acting baking powders, but this convenient way of making hot biscuits and muffins for breakfast is entirely satisfactory if you use

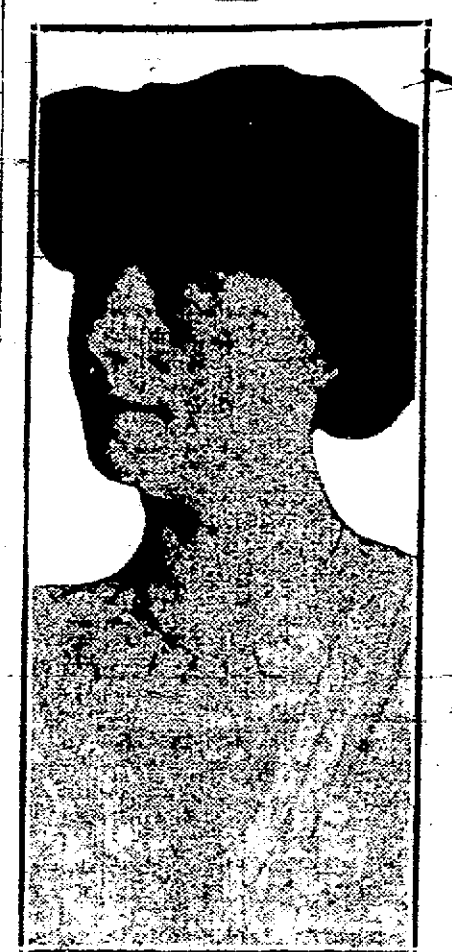

K.C. BAKING POWDER

which is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which begins to give off leavening gas as soon as moisture is added. The other is inactive until heat is applied. The dough will remain in a partly leavened condition for hours and when as it freshly mixed.

Get a can of K.C. today and try this easy way of baking biscuits at once. You'll never go back to the old way.

ENGLISH SUFFRAGETTE LEADER SAYS PARLIAMENT IS AFRAID OF WOMEN

(Photograph by Paul Thompson.)
MRS. PHILIP SNOWDEN

Mrs. Philip Snowden, the English suffragette, said in a recent address in New York that the members of parliament do not deny that they are afraid of the women who sit in the visitors' gallery. "There is only one place in the houses of parliament where a woman may go unaccompanied by a member," said Mrs. Snowden, "and that is a cage with a grille in front of it." The members say that women have a habit of throwing flowers down on them, hence the grille. The gallery for women visitors accommodates only 32, while the men's gallery holds 200.

Colorado City DEPARTMENT

CLLO. CITY LEGALLY DRY

Colorado City is legally, if not actually, dry.

The clerk of the district court yesterday received a writ of prohibition from the supreme court, which forbids the city of Colorado City to dry by virtue of the election in April, 1911.

The saloons there may be closed at any moment by the antislavery forces, through legal measures, it is said. It is understood that the saloons may remain open until midnight tonight on account of the expiration of licenses then.

POLITICS ACTIVE

J. D. Faulkner, a pioneer resident of Colorado City, yesterday announced his candidacy for mayor, and which, under the charter, comprises also the office of commissioner of public works. He was mayor several years ago under the old form of government.

Mayor P. J. Hamble also is a candidate for reelection. He was elected two years ago by the antislavery party.

Frank Ferris and C. E. Myles are candidates for election to the office of commissioner of public highways.

NEW NICKELS ISSUED

The new Indian nickels have been received in Colorado Springs by the Colorado Title and Trust company, fresh from the Denver mint. These coins are similar in size and weight to the 5-cent pieces, but on one side, instead of the Goddess of Liberty and the stars, there is a buffalo with head and tail touching the edges, and on the reverse is the head of an Indian. The coins are being issued from all the mints.

LITTLE GIRL WHOSE MARVELOUS PSYCHIC POWERS HAVE STARTLED 'SCIENTIST'

BEULAH MILLER

That Beulah Miller, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Miller of Warren, R. I., has developed psychic powers that would spell fortune to any stage telepathist was clearly shown when Prof. Hugo Munsterberg, of Harvard university, who is regarded as the greatest psychologist in America, tested the child's ability recently. Without hesitation, Beulah gave the dates and denomination of coins which the professor concealed in his pockets, and correctly described cards which were selected from a pack. Beulah's wonderful gift was discovered while she was playing "old maid" with some of her friends. Someone asked who had the "old maid" card, and Beulah promptly pointed out the person who held it. Mrs. Miller says that to her knowledge no one, either on her own or Mr. Miller's side of the family, possessed any ability to read minds.
